SECURITY SHREDDING

If your organisation produces confidential material you need a shredding and destruction service that you can trust.

SITA UK is one of the country's leading recycling and resource management companies and we are trusted by the UK's most security-conscious organisations.

DATA DESTRUCTION FOR ALL TYPES OF MEDIA

We shred and recycle paper documents, files and computer print-outs.

We fragment and / or incinerate CDs and DVDs, microfiche, disks and audio and video cassettes.

TRACKING YOUR CONFIDENTIAL WASTE TO DESTRUCTION

Our secure documentation records an audit trail for every consignment you entrust to us. This means you can demonstrate due diligence in your efforts to process confidential waste securely. You are welcome to visit our site to witness the destruction of your confidential materials.

Your waste is secure in transit. Our vehicles are fitted with security measures that include alarms, two-way radios and vehicle tracking devices. At our sites, consignments are unloaded under supervision.

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT TO MANAGE CONFIDENTIAL WASTE SECURELY?

Organisations cannot dispose of confidential waste through their normal refuse service. Every organisation has a legal responsibility to safeguard the privacy of anyone whose information they hold, in a database or printed record.

Under the Data Protection Act 1998, any organisation that stores information about individuals must process it fairly and lawfully. This includes destroying it effectively when it is no longer needed and applies to information as simple as names and addresses. As the data controller, organisations must comply with the Data Protection Act – if they do not, they could be liable to pay up to £500,000 for a serious breach of the Act.

A SECURE AND CONVENIENT COLLECTION SERVICE

We provide secure containers to store confidential waste in your workplace. Our fleet of vehicles collect confidential waste direct from your workplace and transport it to a SITA UK security shredding and destruction facility.

We provide scheduled collections to suit you and one-off collections, as and when required.
